

THE JOURNEY
(FINAL DRAFT)

Written by Gareth Starr

FADE IN:

EXT. RICHMOND PARK - DAWN

The park is fairly empty this morning, the weather is relatively sunny. A single bench sits at the top of a hill with no one sitting on it. Halfway up the hill a woman is walking up the hill towards the bench. Eventually, the woman makes it to the bench, sits down and takes a deep breath. The woman sits on the bench emotionless.

CUT TO:

EXT. RICHMOND PARK - DAY (location 1) (get excess in shots)

On this day the parks weather is more miserable being rainy and cloudy. The woman is walking through Richmond Park.

PARK PERSON

(V.O)

I woke up even earlier today than I have been.
Got to see the park a few hours before I usually do. Saw the sky change from darkness to a lighter darkness. That seems to be the only change I can make to my emotions. Changing from one darkness to another.

CUT TO:

EXT. RICHMOND PARK - DAY (CONT'D)

The park person is back at the bench she sat on from the beginning, this time they look happy.

PARK PERSON

(V.O)

I woke up early today, like the day before that and before that. Getting to the park early everyday helps. Getting to see the sky change colour makes me happy. Changing from light to a calm darkness that leaves me happy. Changing from one happiness to another.

FADE OUT:

